

THE HUMANE SOCIETY OF THE UNITED STATES

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MEDIA CONTACTS:

Lisa Marie Czop (NMCP); 703-533-4837; lisa@bwfcom.com
Pepper Ballard (HSUS); 301-258-1417; pballard@humanesociety.org
Sabrina Fang (WHS); 202-683-1824; sfang@washhumane.org

Local Creative Canine Wins June Round of Nationwide Search for the “Top Dog”

Washington D.C. - Local Terrier/Schnauzer Mix Gino, a companion to Euless, Texas resident Lori Anne Greco, was crowned the June winner of the Top Dog: Canine Cop of the Year earlier today. The contest, presented by the National Museum of Crime & Punishment (NMCP) in Washington, D.C., aims to identify dogs that best serve their family and community both figuratively and literally. Of the many entries submitted to the contest this month, Gino was selected as the winner by judges representing the National Museum of Crime & Punishment (NMCP), The Humane Society of the United States (HSUS), and the Washington Humane Society (WHS).

This unique contest invites pet owners to submit a picture and caption of how their dog “protects and serves” within their community. The judges selected Gino’s photo based on creativity, quality of the photo, and Greco’s entertaining caption. According to the entry submitted by Greco, “Gino, an official junior Texas Ranger, is always at work making sure his neighborhood, and the new west, is safe from crime. The nose of a Ranger is upon you. Any wrong you do, Gino will take a whiff. When you're in Texas look behind you. Cause that's where this Ranger's gonna sniff!”

As this month’s winner, Gino will receive a featured spot on the NMCP website and e-newsletter, an annual family pass to the museum, and his own Canine Cop Day, where the National Museum of Crime & Punishment will be devoted to glorifying Gino. On Saturday, June 18th, his winning photo will be posted at the museum, and guests that state “GINO” at the museum's front desk will receive half price admission. Gino will also qualify for the nationwide vote to determine the Canine Cop of the Year, who will receive a trip to Washington, D.C. with their pooch and the opportunity to march in the D.C. Independence Day Parade.

Note for media: Winning photo of Gino is attached to this email. Photo credit should be “Photo courtesy of the National Museum of Crime & Punishment.” For high resolution versions, please email lisa@bwfcom.com.

About the National Museum of Crime & Punishment

The NMCP's mission is to provide guests of all ages with a memorable insight into the history of crime, crime fighting and solving, and the consequences of committing a crime in America through a captivating interactive, entertaining, and educational experience. Some of the attractions include a CSI Experience, a high-speed chase simulator and FBI shooting range, Americas Most Wanted studio, and a room where visitors can try to hack into a computer, crack a safe and test their Wild West shooting range. The museum is located on 7th Street NW between E and F Streets in downtown Washington, D.C. at the Gallery Place/Chinatown Metro (Arena exit). Learn more at www.crimemuseum.org.

About The Humane Society of the United States

The Humane Society of the United States is the nation's largest animal protection organization — backed by 11 million Americans, or one of every 28. For more than a half-century, The HSUS has been fighting for the protection of all animals through advocacy, education and hands-on programs. Celebrating animals and confronting cruelty — On the Web at www.humanesociety.org.

About the Washington Humane Society

The Washington Humane Society, the only Congressionally-chartered animal welfare agency in the United States, has been the leading voice for animals in the District of Columbia since 1870. As the only open-access shelter in the nation's capital, no call for help goes unanswered, and no animal is ever turned away. The Washington Humane Society provides comfort and care to more than 30,000 animals each year through its broad range of programs and services including: sheltering, adoption, humane law enforcement, spay and neuter, humane education, human – animal rehabilitation programs, and lost and found services. For more information please call or e-mail the media contact above or visit: www.washhumane.org

###